

FREAR HEARS THAT KUHIO IS AFTER HIS SCALP

"What do you think of the news from San Francisco about what Delegate Kuhio had to say about you there?" asked a newspaperman of Governor Frear, this morning.

"I don't think much of it," replied the Governor.

"Has he written to you yet?" asked the scribe.

"No," said the Governor, "but he's likely to do so at any time. We have always been friendly in our correspondence and meetings. I see that he promises to do great things at Washington, still I'm not paying a great deal of attention to the matter."

Whereupon the governor slipped back in his chair and discoursed on the advisability of Hawaii being represented at the 1911 convention of the Higginsville (Fla.) Beach Boosters' Association.

Kuhio's Talk.

A Chronicle interview with Kuhio has already been published here. The Examiner has the following:

That Walter F. Frear will not be in the running when it comes to his reappointment to the Governorship of the Territory of Hawaii, is the opinion of Jonah Kuhio Kalaniana'ole, better known as "Prince Cupid," who arrived from Honolulu yesterday, en route to Washington.

Although the prince is also traveling to the national capital in his official capacity as Territorial representative to Congress, the primary purpose of his attendance will be to bring about the elimination of Frear as a factor in island politics.

Armed with a small grip filled with petitions of protest and data compiled against the retention of Frear in office, the royal representative of Hawaii will endeavor to persuade President Taft to choose another to fill the place of the present Governor.

Though the blood of numerous Hawaiian potentates course through his veins, Prince Cupid is thoroughly democratic in his views, and declares that it is the desire of the masses that the President appoint another and more suitable man in place of Frear.

"Governor Frear is unsuitable for the position he holds," said the prince. "Nearly every act he has performed since he came into office has been in the interests of the wealthy class and to the disadvantage of the common people."

"With the material in my possession, I hope to prove to the President that the reappointment of Frear to his position will spell calamity to Hawaii."

OUR SAN FRANCISCO LETTER

A Visitor Who Was Once of Wide Notoriety--Some Queer "Facts" About Hawaii Dug Up in San Francisco Library.

ERNEST N. SMITH.

(Special Correspondence of the Star.)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—Honolulu may soon expect a visit from J. F. Gaynor, who was a partner of Benjamin D. Greene in the Savannah harbor frauds. He arrived from the East a few days ago, and announced that he would leave for Honolulu in the near future with his family. He is accompanied by his wife, John F. Gaynor, Jr., and Miss K. L. Gaynor.

The sensational expose of the Gaynor-Greene frauds came several years ago, and resulted in the downfall of Captain Oberlin Carter, U. S. A., who was convicted of conspiracy, cashiered from the service and sentenced to five years' imprisonment at the government prison at Ft. Leavenworth. Captain Carter was a member of the

Iowa Professors Got Big Bird Collection

The party that went to Laysan Island to study the bird life there, returned late this morning by the revenue cutter Thetis. They were Professor H. R. Dill, C. A. Corwin, the scenic artist, Horace Young and Clarence Albrecht.

Professor Dill, when seen at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel this afternoon, said: "We had an entirely successful trip. We made a very fine collection of birds, one that will probably be the best ever taken into the United States. We collected some nests, eggs, bushes, etc. Our idea is to reproduce Laysan Island in miniature in the Iowa University museum. Mr. Corwin, our artist, made sketches representing the background. There will be a panoramic reproduction of the island. The foreground will blend insensibly into the background."

"We made a complete survey of the island, and have taken some of each species of the birds found there. We have been busy preparing the skins, and that has made a lot of monotonous work, but we have squeezed about two months' work into six weeks, and were thus enabled to leave earlier than anticipated.

"The rabbits have not done as much harm as we thought they had at first. All the same, something should be done to prevent their further ravages. With proper protection, none of the birds there now should become extinct, with the exception, perhaps, of the Laysan teal and the lovebird. These were very rare, but as I said, they are the only ones likely to die out. As far as we could see, there were no evidences of poachers since the Thetis' last trip to the island."

"Acres and acres of land were cleared right out by the Japanese when they had the island. On this land there was nothing but a pile of bones, but these are only near the buildings where the Japanese were working. The other parts were all right."

"We plan to leave by the transport on July 5, but possibly we will get away by the Korea on Saturday next. We have not yet been able to arrange this."

A Vain Search For Opium On Wilhelmina

There is a ring that brings opium through her cargo with great care. When she was up at the wharf, not a soul was allowed on board, with the exception, of course, of those whose business took them there. No cargo was to be worked until the vessel had been thoroughly searched. Every precaution was taken to prevent any unstamped opium being brought ashore.

This morning she was off port at an early hour. She was boarded at twenty minutes past five, and within a few minutes of that time there was a gang of customs men on board going through her cargo with great care. The ring, if there is one, had evidently decided that the game had better be left alone for a while, for not a single tin was discovered. The search was completed at half-past nine.

MET DEATH THROUGH TRYING TO MAKE UP FOR LOST TIME

Another terrible automobile calamity happened yesterday, resulting in the death of a young Hawaiian lad named Joseph Kalana, who was on his way from town to pick up a party at Peck's place, Waikane. The unfortunate chauffeur was driving Sonny Gay's seven-seated Locomobile, and in endeavoring to make up for lost time he was proceeding to Waikane at a fast rate. He was passed at the top of the Pali by Mr. J. F. Fleming early in the evening and when he had almost reached the scene of the accident he was passed by two cars, in the first of which were A. Lewis and a party and in the second P. C. Jones and others.

At this time Kalana was driving at a terrific rate, but he passed both cars without mishap and they continued on their way to town without giving Kalana a second thought. No one has been found who saw the accident, but it is surmised that the fatality occurred very shortly after Messrs. Jones and Lewis passed.

The first intimation of the accident was given by Chauffeur Levy, who had preceded Kalana to Waikane and was on his way back to town when he saw the overturned car lying across the road on the west side of the Heela beach. Poor Kalana was then dead, pinned beneath the side of the front seat, with all his body excepting his head and portion of his shoulders beneath the car.

From the tracks left by the car it seems probable that Kalana ran into a small gully about a foot wide near the side of the road, swung off the road, drove along the steep embankment for some considerable distance and then brought the car to the road again. Straight across the road the car shot and then capsized, pinning Kalana beneath.

Joe Kalana bears a high reputation for sobriety and steadiness. He was only about twenty-four years of age, and favorably known all round the city. On all sides expressions of sympathy were to be heard this morning and last night when the news filtered through.

MACOMB MEETS AN OLD FRIEND

The U. S. A. T. Buford arrived early this morning carrying a total of eight hundred and seventy-seven souls. One hundred and three passengers at all classes left the ship at this port. The Buford is scheduled to sail at noon tomorrow for the Philippine Islands, touching at Guam en route.

There are fifteen people destined to disembark for station at Guam. Surgeon C. P. Kindlerberger, U. S. Navy goes to become naval surgeon at Guam. Mrs. Kindlerberger accompanies her husband. The other passengers are casuals for the navy.

Colonel Frederick W. Sibley, recently promoted and assigned as regimental commander of the Fourteenth Cavalry is traveling on the Buford to join his command in the Philippines Division. Colonel Sibley is commanding officer aboard the transport. Captain Chase Darter, captain in the Quartermaster's Department, is acting adjutant of troops going to the Orient.

Colonel Sibley is one of the most prominent officers in the army and has friends everywhere. The commanding officer of this military district, General Montgomery M. Macomb and Colonel Sibley graduated in the same class at West Point, and are very devoted friends. Colonel Sibley will assume command of the Fourteenth Cavalry, which is stationed at Camp Stotsenberg, Pampanga Province, Philippine Islands, in the Department of Luzon. Mrs. Sibley accompanies Col. Sibley on his Philippine tour of duty.

Both were recipients of much social attention while here.

As the transport Logan is "laid up" for repairs at San Francisco, the official force of that ship was transferred to the Buford.

The journey down from the coast was delightful, excepting the first day out, was very cold. No sickness occurred except a case of measles and one of mumps among the casuals of the Buford. Both of these cases are rapidly recovering.

Captain J. V. Heidt, who was recently transferred from the Tenth Infantry to the Quartermaster's Department is

MRS. DE LA VERGNE PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Charles M. Cooke this morning received a telegram telling of the death at Los Angeles of her sister, Mrs. George De la Vergne, wife of Colonel De la Vergne.

It is many years since Mrs. De la Vergne was here, but she has many friends here, for she renewed the friendships from time to time by meeting Honolulu on the mainland, and she came back here for a trip.

The deceased was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Rice, and was born at Lahaina, on May 10, 1864. She has a brother here, William H. Rice, of Lihue. The marriage to Colonel De la Vergne took place some years ago, and since that time the deceased has resided on the mainland, chiefly at Colorado Springs, Colorado, and Los Angeles.

APPEAL ENTERED.

Plaintiff's appeal from Judge Robinson's granting of motion to quash summons in the case of Jose dos Passos Rodrigues against Fortunato Cowell, Victorino de Vasconcellos and the San Antonio Benevolent Society has been placed on the supreme court calendar.

JUDGE HARTWELL IS ABROAD FOR SUMMER.

Former Chief Justice Hartwell sailed for England on the Caronia June 3. He is going to Devonshire and will return to New York September 2. During his Washington visit, where he met Judge Hatch, Hon. J. W. Foster and others of note, he attended the peace conference. He also saw the suffragette procession in New York. The judge in concluding a postal card account of these things, said: "Hot as blazes. Make me at least vice president of the Comeback Club."

Captain and Quartermaster of the Buford. This is Captain Heidt's first trip in this capacity. Dr. Bayly, ship's Doctor of the Logan is looking after the health of the passengers of the Buford on this journey.

PEARL HARBOR STATION TO BE WITHOUT AN EQUAL ON EARTH

BY J. A. BRECKONS.

(Correspondence of The Star.)

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Some time during the present month the navy department will advertise for bids for 25,000 tons of fabricated steel to be used in the construction work of the Pearl Harbor naval station. Reports from the work indicate the progress of the work will have reached a point where this steel will be required by the first of the year at the latest, and bidders will be required to contract for delivery by that date. It is expected that the entire plant will be completed within twelve months.

The Pearl Harbor station will be without an equal in the world, either in government or private shipbuilding plants. The most modern ideas of naval construction have been incorporated in the plans; there will be no duplications in any parts of the plant and all of the machinery will be of the very latest type.

The plans call for an administration building, officers' quarters, powderhouse, machine shop, foundry, boiler shops, shipfitter's shop, plumbers' and sheet metal shop, in addition to ample store room.

MURDER DONE FOR ROBBERY

With five ribs broken in, a bruise behind the ear and a smashed-in chest, a Korean named Kim Young Sun was found lying in his room at Kahuku on Sunday morning, all the evidences pointing to murder. How the Korean met his death is a mystery, but robbery is believed to have been the motive. It was known that on Saturday the Korean drew $20 for May pay and he was seen drinking with several Filipinos late in the evening. Outside his door portion of an envelope was found and this was shown to the police dog which promptly took the officers to a Porto Rican who, however, was able to explain satisfactorily how the piece of paper came to be near that door. Chief Detective McDuffie has the investigation in hand and hopes to locate the murderer.

Joseph K. Kehikuli has been licensed to practice law in the Territorial district courts.

IN WASHINGTON.

Governor Frear has received a cablegram to the effect that Messrs. Conkling and Hemenway arrived in Washington on Sunday.
